Concorde Staff Source's Jamey Morgan Elected President of First Choice Inc.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. – April 13, 2010 – Jamey Morgan, president of Concorde Staff Source, a provider of supplemental health care staffing, has been elected president of the board of directors for First Choice Inc.

First Choice Inc. is an organization of 12 physician recruitment offices located across the nation. The partners involved in the group average more than 25 years in the physician and healthcare search industry; and at any given time are recruiting for more than 700 opportunities for physicians and mid-level practitioners in all specialties.

As president, Morgan will be responsible for chairing general and board meetings; providing leadership to the profession, the board and membership; supporting the organization and its policies; and serving as a liaison between the board and members. Her two-year term will begin immediately.

“It’s an honor to represent an organization in which I hold such high regard and that gives Concorde access to phenomenal healthcare professionals,” Morgan said. “I’m excited about this new venture and look forward to helping the organization continue to grow even stronger and provide value to its members.”

Morgan has been a member of First Choice Inc. for nearly 20 years. She previously served as vice president of the board of directors, and as a board member. She is a shareholder in the organization as well.

In addition to her role at First Choice Inc., she is also a founding member of the National Association of Physician Recruiters (NAPR) and the National Association of Locum Tenens Organization (NALTO).
