Concorde Staff Source Arranges Endocrinologist Placement at Wheaton Franciscan Healthcare

MILWAUKEE, Wis. – June XX, 2010 – Concorde Staff Source announced today that it has placed an endocrinologist with Wheaton Franciscan Healthcare, a system based in southeastern Wisconsin.

Dr. Hairong Sang will serve as an Endocrinologist for Wheaton Franciscan on a permanent basis, working primarily with diabetic patients at the Wisconsin Heart Hospital in Wauwatosa, Wis. An endocrinologist is a specialist who diagnoses, manages and treats diseases/disorders that affect a person's glands.

“Endocrinologists are in high demand, and finding the right fit for a healthcare organization can be extremely challenging,” said Jamey Morgan, president of Concorde Staff Source. “We're proud to connect Wheaton Franciscan Healthcare with a high-caliber physician whose diverse set of skills and expertise will be a valued asset to our greater Milwaukee community.”

Sang earned her Master of Science in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology from the University of Illinois at Chicago in 1999. Her professional training includes:

- Internal Medicine Residency in New York, N.Y.
- Fellowship in Endocrinology in Phoenix, Ariz.

In addition to her professional training, Sang is currently providing coverage to the Cancer Treatment Center of America. Concorde Staff Source congratulates Dr. Sang on her new position.

About Concorde: Concorde Staff Source supports health care organizations' needs by providing access to world-class, experienced physicians and allied health professionals on a temporary or permanent basis.
